Voters leave only Corlew on Board

NEW MEMBERS ELECTED - Five new members were elected to the Crawford County Board of Commissioners on November 3. The successful candidates shown are Scott Hanson (District #2), Shelley Pinkelman (District #3), Elizabeth Wieland (District #5) and Terry Beardslee (District #6). Not shown is District #1 winner, Harold Golnick.

District #4 Commissioner Lynnette Corlew was the only member of the current board that ran in the November 3 election and retained her seat.

Board Chairman John Hartman, along with Commissioners Dennis Long and Kathy Black did not seek re-election. Commissioner Bruce Bretzke lost his bid for re-election in the August primary election and Vice-Chairman Robert Smock, Jr. was unseated by Democrat Elizabeth Wieland a little over a week ago in the general election.

While Crawford County can boast of over 200 miles of groomed trails, getting to the businesses that provide services for riders' needs is dif-

With thousands of acres of state and federal land, possibilities for trails are almost endless, but getting to a variety of restaurants and gas stations can be a real challenge. Current trails connect Grayling, Lovells, Lewiston, Frederic, Roscommon and Houghton Lake to name a few, but a connector trail to get snowmobiles into Grayling is a project that several local groups and organizations have been working on for a number of years.

One significant hurdle to a through-town trail is the building and funding of a bridge to cross the AuSable River. Two other major obstacles include the need for another public railroad crossing and the overcoming of private property easements.

In 1996, a grant application to the U.S. Department of Agriculture Wood in Transportation program was submitted for construction of a bridge to cross the river near the downtown business district. The grant was written for a bridge wide enough to allow two machines to pass and to accommodate an appropriate groomer. Estimated cost for the project was $122,000.

With help from several community organizations to meet the matching funds requirement, the interested parties thought the dollars necesopment of a trail through town would solve one of the problems.

The bridge project was selected as an "alternate" site, meaning if one of the selected projects did not come together to be constructed, the Grayling bridge would be next in line. Time passed and no change in the selections were made. A second application was submitted for the following year. The criteria for funding changed. Only bridges for vehicular traffic would qualify.

Another application is being processed for 1999.

In the meantime, the Chamber Transportation Committee has also investigated historic bridges that are being removed from their current sites. None have been found that could meet the needs of the commit-

The DNR purchased property north of Grayling to develop for recreational use and the entrance crosses Lake States Railroad. A diagnostic study of the entrance was conducted by MDOT Rail Safety Division to determine the need for a public crossing to have access to the DNR property. While the final result has not been received, the MDOT

Transfer station will soon take large items

by Cheryll Ruley Staff Writer

The Grayling Township Board of Trustees agreed to obtain a 40-yard dumpster to be housed at the township's transfer station and recycling center on North Down River Road to aid residents in the disposal of large items.

The board agreed to rent the dumpster at a cost of $50 per month from City Environmental Services, install a gravel pad on which the container will sit, and approve of a schedule of regulations and fees for non-metal items will go to the landdisposal of non-compactible items.

Township Supervisor Terry Wright commented that last spring's clean-up day was a nightmare. About 1,000 cubic yards of large items were brought to the one-day which took three days to haul to the be posted.

landfill and cost the township more than $18,000.

"Although it was worth every penny," Wright said, "we thought there had to be an easier way to accomplish the same goal. Our new program will do that "

The container will be delivered soon to the transfer station and will be used, on alternating cycles, to dispose of metal and non-metal items too large to fit into the compactor. Metal items will be recycled through a local salvage yard and

According to Wright, a sign will be posted at the station indicating which items, metal or non-metal, are being taken at any given time. When the container is full, it will be collection site at Hanson Hills, emptied and the alternate sign will

"In this manner, there will be ample times throughout the year for residents to bring both old furniture and metal appliances, "said Wright. "They just won't be able to bring them at the same time."

The new dumpster will be available to Grayling Township residents on Wednesdays and Fridays, by appointment only. The compactor attendant will schedule appointments and be on hand with a tractor to help load heavy items.

A small fee will be charged for each item to offset the costs of disposal to the township.

"This is another way in the ongoing effort for the township to help beautify our neighborhoods," Wright said, "and at the same time, protect the environment. This should prevent some of the unsightly messes you see in the woods."

Frederic Township elects trustee

In the Precinct 201 election, Democrat Karen A. Bindschatel defeated Republican Rose Ann Owens for a seat on the Frederic Township Board of Trustees.

Bindschatel, who received 323 or 65.65% of the townships votes, will serve a partial term on the board.

Owens received 169 votes on November 3.

by Cheryll Ruley Staff Writer

Crawford County voters said "no" to the state's desire to borrow millions of dollars in order to finance environmental and natural resource protection programs within Michigan.

Although U.S. Senator Spencer Abraham made a whirlwind campaign visit to the county just days before the election, looking to drum up support for the issue, almost 56% of county voters cast ballots against Proposal C, while the issue won in the overall state vote.

When exiting the polls, many county voters said they weren't sure what this proposal would do for northern Michigan and feared that most of the money would be spent in the Detroit area.

Proposal A, to change the word "handicapped" to "disabled" in the state constitution, won by a slim margin among county voters - 2,465 to 2,340. State totals show this proposal also passed.

Proposal B, to initiate legislation to legalize physician-assisted suicide for certain terminally ill adults, was defeated at the state level and in Crawford County. Local voters cast 3,255 votes, or 66.37%, against the proposal and 1,649 votes, or 33.63%, in favor of the proposal.

Lovells elects treasurer and trustee

Totals from Lovells Township Precinct 401 ballots name unopposed Republican Ann Duby the Treasurer-elect of the township for a partial term. Duby received 204 votes.

Democrat Delphine Nowaczyk ran unopposed for a partial term seat on the Lovells Township Board of Trustees and received 173 votes.

Schools kick-off bond issue campaign... again

by Cheryll Ruley Staff Writer

The Crawford AuSable School District's Board of Education is attempting to breathe new life into a $14.94 million school bond issue put before the voters last June.

There are some changes in the proposal since the issue was last presented. For instance, the amount of projected mills needed to accomplish improvements and additions to the 25-year old high school has been lowered from June's 1.99 mills to 1.75 mills.

Another change to the original issue is the need to replace the middle school roof at a cost of about $300,000.

Superintendent Kent Reynolds said that the bond market and bidding environment is very favorable at this time. "We may not see such an environment later on if we wait to make the improvements," said Reynolds.

The board and a committee calling themselves Kids Count are asking the taxpayers of this county to electric and gas costs per square foot and lower maintenance costs due to improved energy efficiency.

The district currently pays $45,000 per year to maintain the obsolete heating and ventilation system at the high school.

The Kids Count committee said that the high school was built to accommodate 650 and current enrollment surpasses that number. They project that, for the next five years, enrollment will increase by 120 students, based on the middle school enrollment. The committee also says the auditorium is inadequate in number of seats and the drama department has no facilities to prepare for theater productions, nor a place to store costumes and props. They are currently housed outside of the school.

Since 1973, the high school athletic program has grown to 40% participation by boys and girls alike. The girls currently have inadequate locker facilities and the current gym does not accommodate all the teams that need to practice.

Kids Count said they feel quality educational facilities and programs promote community growth and representatives did determine the need for a crossing. The final decision will not be made until all legal notification requirements are completed.

This crossing would allow snowmobiles to travel south from Frederic into Grayling and would reestablish the connection for existing trails.

Private property easements are the third issue to be addressed. In order to get into town and once across the yet-to-be-constructed bridge, riders would have very few places to go. The best option would be to connect with the trail that is located just south of the Grayling Holiday Inn.

In order to get there, several private pieces of property would need to be crossed. In order to achieve these rights, agreements need to be signed by each property owner. That work is ongoing.

Last season the Chamber Council.

Transportation Committee organized a petition drive, which was endorsed by the Grayling Area Visitor's Council and the Grayling Chamber of Commerce.

Petitions were distributed for snowmobilers to sign showing their support of getting the trail developed. Hundreds of signatures are on record. The sheer number of signatures reinforced the need for the trail connections.

All of the Transportation Committee members working on this project are volunteers, as are all of the people that groom the trails.

The goal is to provide the snowmobiling public a better understanding of the continuing process to give snow enthusiasts a superb riding experience in the Grayling area.

Gap appears to narrow between parties in Crawford County

by Cheryll Ruley Staff Writer

In what some say is "Republican country", Crawford County voters may have shown some restlessness in allegiance to the GOP in the general election held November 3.

Of those casting a straight party ballot, 1,014 voted in favor of Republicans and 746 voted in favor of Democrats. Seven cast straight ballots for Ross Perot's Reform Party, five for the Natural Law Party, and 11 for the Libertarians.

Democratic candidate for governor, Geoffrey Fieger garnered 1,831 of the county's votes, over 37.5%, compared to incumbent Republican Governor John Engler's nearly 62.5%, or 3,050 votes. --

Crawford County voters gave Secretary of State Candice Miller 71.14%, or 3,464 votes to Democratic challenger Mary Lou Parks' 26.72% or 1,301 votes. Reform Party candidate received 104 votes in the race.

The total vote in the state, electing the first female Attorney General in Michigan's history, was fostered by the county's voters - 2,497 said "yes" to Democrat Jennifer Granholm. defeating Republican Smietanka by a little more than four percentage points in the county.

For Representative in the 1st Rep. Bart Stupak and Republican Eileen Weiser and Gary Wolfram.

Michelle McManus was one of the most closely watched race in northern Michigan. Stupak retained his seat with Crawford County voters giving him 664 votes, or 54.2%, to the 512 votes, or 41.8% received by McManus. Natural Law candidate Wendy Conway received 27 votes Republican incumbent Representative the 4th in Congressional District, Dave Camp, was re-elected. He received an overwhelming majority of the county's votes - 89.5%, or 2,737 votes. Libertarian Dan Marsh had 211 votes cast in his favor and Natural Law candidate Stuart Goldberg received 110 votes.

and Libertarian John Loosemore received 22 votes in the county.

Republican State Senator George McManus, Jr. will serve another term, earning 60% of the county's vote to Democratic contender Joel Casler's 40%. McManus received 2,819 votes and Casler received 1.879 votes.

Crawford County voters helped Republican Ken Bradstreet earn the seat being vacated by Rep. Allen Lowe in the 105th Legislative District of the State House. Bradstreet received 2,852 votes, or 62.18%, to Democrat Elaine Felts' 1,735 votes, or 37.82%.

Registered voter total may indicate growth

by Cheryll Ruley Staff Writer

At last count, in the 1990 census, a little more than 12,500 people lived in Crawford County.

According to results received from election officials, there are 11,008 registered voters in Crawford County, nearly 46% of which went to the polls or cast absentee ballots in this most recent general election. That equals to 5,057 ballots cast.

Many of the county's registered voters may very well be part-time residents and could account for what seems to be a disproportionately large electorate for the population.

Or, the county may be growing at a faster rate than anyone realizes.

The 46% turn-out in a mid-term election is considered a good turnout by the county's Clerk/Register of Deeds Sandra Moore. She also showed some surprise at the amount of registered voters in the county.

If high voter turn-out is a sign of a desire for change or a strong aversion to a controversial proposal or candidate on the ballot, then interviews with those exiting the polls revealed that county voters were in the predicted frame of mind.

Most of those questioned came out to vote against Proposal B and the assisted suicide issue, for the governor's race and, most of all, for their favorite county board candiDeer Huntan Ball & Raffle Hosted by Granting Eagles #3465 November 14, 1998 at 602 M-72 East Dinner is at 5 pm Cash Bar • Venison Stew • Live Music by Larry Reichert Donations Accepted • Many Door Prizes

Election results: Take your pick

WHAT HAPPENED in the 1998 elections? President Bill Clinton is the real winner on the national level, where Democrats showed surprising gains overall, partly due to inept national Republican leadership. Voters strengthened Mr. Clinton's hand considerably.

But Michigan bucked that tide. Republicans won big in Michigan. Voters not only gave Gov. John Engler 62 percent of the vote for his third term, and an even more impressive margin to Secretary of State Candice Miller with 70 percent, but also provided these goodies to

• Firm grip on the Michigan Legislature, winning back control of the House with six added seats for a 58-82 majority, and maintaining strong Senate control 23-15.

• A 5-4 majority of Republican nominated justices on the State Supreme Court. It only took a one-vote swing, and the GOP got it.

For the first time in recent political history, Republicans will control all three branches of Michigan state government

THE SUPREME Court win could prove to be the sweetest of all. Legal challenges to favorite Republican programs -- such as anti-abortion questions or school control -- could receive a more receptive ear.

The Court likely will have the final word on reapportionment of legislative and congressional seats after the 2000 census. However, there's one more Court election in 2000 before final apportionment decisions will be before the court.

Mr. Engler and Republicans can be expected to pursue an energetic legislative agenda on tax cuts, highways, education, welfare and other areas dear

Who's to stop the Engler programs now? Nobody but other Republicans.

THE GOP, however, did not pick up all the marbles.

Democrats see a savior in their future in Jennifer Granholm, who won a 100,000 vote margin over John Smietanka for Attorney General, in one of most rancorous campaigns this year.

With Ms. Granholm's ties to Wayne County Executive Ed McNamara and his metro political machine, she is likely to become the focus of Democratic party rebuilding efforts.

In addition, Democrats dashed GOP hopes to knock off a couple of congressional seats. Instead, all Michigan incumbents of both parties won to maintain a 10-6 Democratic edge.

One curious side light on the election is the performance of voters in end-of-the-ticket selections. Usually candidates for the State Board of Education and governing bodies of the Big Three state universities rise or fall on how the top of the ticket performs. A 62 or 70 percent at the top usually means a sweep at the bottom.

NOT SO IN 1998. Michigan's famous ticketsplitting voters ran amok when it came to educafourth. One Republican, one Democrat won.

At Michigan State University, one incumbent, a Republican, sought re-election; she and her Republican candidate both won.

For Wayne State University Governors, the pattern was familiar. One incumbent Republican won, the other lost. One challenging Democrat won the other lost.

The margin from first to fourth in all these races was only about 100,000 or so at the largest, which is close with three million votes cast.

IT APPEARS that Ms. Granholm and Democratic congress members provided the familiar "fire wall" against a Republican sweep.

Of course, there's always the perversity of the Michigan voter, who learned to split a ticket back in the days when G. Mennen Williams was the only Democrat to be elected to anything statewide, and the voter apparently never forgot how to do it.

However, it is clear that the Michigan Democratic party needs some deep soul searching. Would-be governor Geoffrey Fieger claims that's his job, but that wouldn't work. To lead, one needs followers, and he caused a lot of the Democrats' problems this year.

All in all, it was a good Republican year in Michigan 1998.

What Mr. Engler and company do with what they've been handed will determine what happens

There has been so much negativism on the opinion page of the paper considering our community that I thought I would pass along something positive.

On November 3, election day, a friend of mine was not feeling very well, but still wanted to vote.

My friend could not go into the township hall because of feeling so

Pat Kangas and Monica Ashton came up with a portable voting machine so that my friend could still vote. Monica took the portable machine to my friend and waited while a ballot was cast.

Pat and Monica were very professional and acted with kindness towards my friend. They did not act or make anyone feel like it was an imposition. They were just being kind.

What a kind community we live in, because I know that in a big city you surely would not get this kind of treatment.

I was pleased at the response of the voters, who have turned out in large numbers today (November 3) to make a statement against negative campaigning. I look forward to continuing to serve the people of the 1st Congressional District, as I have served them, living in northern Michigan and returning each week to hear their concerns.

I was also pleased to have picked up the endorsement of all the newspapers in the district that give endorsements, and while we may have differences on specific issues, we agree on the fundamental importance of having a congressman who can vote and act independently in Washington, representing the best interest of the people of northern Michigan.

I believe we have made a statement today (November 3), that a campaign brought directly to the voters through debates and forums can triumph over an empty shell of a campaign based on distorting ads and nasty faxes.

The main goals in my next term are the goals I laid out during this campaign and during my prior terms ident who has concerns because of ... in office: serving the needs of our ... district, saving Social Security, pror viding quality education, protecting our Great Lakes and our environment, and protecting veterans bene-

Jury trial may have stopped plea bargain

It seems to me you are at peace. You can come and go as you please and he is confined to his home and work. You shouldn't see him at all, unless you are at one or the other place, to which you would have no reason to be, right?

I say, bottom line, a trial would have been better, all the facts would come out and a competent jury would have made a decision. That is "Justice for All".

Every truth has two sides. It is well to look at both before we commit ourselves to either.

S'where in United Kingdom, Dear Editor:

Receiving your paper once again, after the past few months of absence. I want to take this opportunity to sincerely thank you for sending them. Received three yesterday, and I must say they sure were good to look at. That's quite a picture of the "Lumberjack" team in your latter July issue. I enjoy immensely the letters the boys write in the Avalanche. Sure good to know where some of your pals are and what they are doing.

I know Gerald Melichar is not far from where we are, but as yet, I haven't gotten enough hours of liberty to go and see him. Maybe soon though, I'm hoping.

Quite a few of the G.H.S. Class of '43 over here now, and seeing that's the case, this dirty old war should be over VERY soon, ha, ha. Betcha think I'm kidding. But, what with Jim Kolka here... "Hell!" he says, "I can lick half the German army myself!" Ha, Thanks again for your paper, and until next time, Cheerio now.

Bible Speaks

Is Marxist totalitarianism in America?

Author Charles Sykes has exposed a new totalitarianism sweeping across the university campuses of America. Gone are the old moral, ethical and religious standards which condemned the evil of sins and crimes. In their place, people are being told they suffer only from "sickness" and "sensitivity". Their wrongs have been changed into new " political/therapeutic rights:..Feeling have replaced facts. The individual ego of a minority individual becomes "the imperial arbiter of behavior" for the

A professor at the University of Michigan has declared: "Behavior which constitutes racist oppression when engaged in by whites does not have this character when undertaken by people of color." A consultant hired by Brown University presented this gauge for behavior: "If you are feeling comfortable or normal, then you are probably oppressing someone, whether that person is a woman or a gay or whatever. We probably won't rid our society of racism until everyone strives to be

Status and rights are being elevated in our universities in proportion to one's history of "oppression" and "victimhood". New rules in universities across America govern behavior of the majority concerning such things as "age, color, ethnicity, gender, physical and mental ability, race, religion, sexual orientation, Vietnam-era veteran status, socioeconomic background, or individual style." One university has banned "inappropriately directed laughter" and disrespectful facial expressions or body language..." A student was brought up on charges of sexual harassment at the University of Michigan for suggesting he could develop " a counseling plan for helping gays become straight."

The majority is presumed guilty by some universities even for " unintentional" acts. One stated, " Experience at the university, has been that people almost never make false complaints about discrimination." In one student's word against another, the one accused is presumed guilty by the university. Most of the evidence in this article came from the preview of a new book by Charles Sykes, A Nation of Victims presented in the July 1992 issue of Imprimis from Hillsdale College.

Assuming the work of Sykes is credible. America's foundation of unalienable rights under God and His Word, are being diabolically destroyed by this illogical and unreasonable human philosophy of higher education. If this thinking then becomes universally accepted, global totalitarianism will follow. "Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter!"(ISA 5:20) (Above article first written in 1992)

(Proverbs 17:15) "He that justifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the just, even they both are abomination to the LORD." (Malachi 2:17) "Ye have wearied the LORD with your words. Yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? When ye say, Every one that doeth evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delighteth in them; or Where is God of judgement?" Remember, morality is not determined by politicians, professors, preachers, pundits, or polls but by a Holy God.

Reverend Jeffrey Jaggers dedicated the new oak doors of the tower at Michelson Memorial United Methodist Church on October 25, 1998.

The doors were designed, built and hand-carved by church members Don Smith And Bill Rutter.

The pair spent approximately three years of part time work to complete the doors.

Smith and Rutter said they hope that the new doors will serve the church for many years to come. They are a replacement for doors installed about 75 years ago when the original church was built.

The new solid oak doors are in addition to the extensive renovation, including an elevator, and added space that the church has experienced over the past year.

Church Directory

Perhaps some of you helped your mother or your grandmother polish sterling silver, particularly before holiday gatherings. As you sat at the table with soft cloths and creamy polish, you may have chatted about some things that were of importance or perhaps laughed at nothing at all. At any rate, the smooth, circular, repetitious polishing motions worked a remarkable feat. From the gravish-black tarnish emerged the original warm, gleaming silver sheen as if it were new again.

Of course, silver that is regularly handled and used seldom needs polish, but as it sits it collects layers of tarnish from disuse. Perhaps our faith in God behaves in much the same fashion. The more we use it, the brighter it shines. Yet, should we neglect it, our faith dims and it takes more strength to renew it once more. "Let light shine out of darkness, who has shone in our hearts..." 2 Corinthians 4:6

Worship this week. Your faith need not dim. Polish it with praise and prayer. It will shine like new.

AuSable River reservoirs back to normal levels

Water levels rose last week on the AuSable River reservoirs behind Consumers Energy's Loud and Five Channels hydroelectric dams. The reservoirs were lowered a foot in May to aid construction work at Five Channels. New spill gates were installed and piers were partially rebuilt. That work has entered its final stages, allowing the reservoirs to be returned to normal levels

"The reservoirs levels came up slowly and this change won't have a major effect on fall boating and fishing. However, boaters, canoeists, and anglers should remember they'll be dealing with slightly deeper water and take that into account," said Al-Bingham, operations supervisor for Consumers Energy's AuSable hydroelectric operations.

FOOT NOTES

by Ronald K. Olm, D.P.M.

CHILDREN'S FOOT PROBLEMS

Thirteen percent of all children experience some degree of intoeing. The foot may turn in due to twisting of the foot itself, or there may be torsion of the tibia (shin) or thigh. When this deformity is caused by a twist in the foot, it is called metatarsus adductus, or hooked feet. The foot may be bent at an angle, resulting from the child's position in utero. Until the 1970's, the prevailing thought was to correct these conditions with braces and orthopedic shoes; however, more recently, doctors find the condition generally improves just as well on its own by age 8 to 12 years. If your child's feet cause pain or an abnormal gait, check with your podia-

Experience shows that about one person in four has a foot problem. It can be as simple as a corn or as complex as a bunion or other bone deformity (hereditary or other wise). Regardless, the problem is a big one to the individual who suffers pain because of it. There is no reason to suffer, however, when quality foot care is available. Patients feel comfortable here at Grand Traverse Foot & Ankle Center, P.C., 1209 E. 8th Street, Traverse City, because they know they are receiving the most up to date foot care available and that foot pain can be a thing of the past. Phone: 922-9100 & 800-968-7440. Offices in Traverse City, also Kalkaska Memorial Health Center Monday & Wednesday afternoons and evenings.

P. S. Clubfoot, a rigid deformity, is more serious, but it may be corrected with casting and/or surgery.

Kirtland & Beijing agree to exchanges

Between September 11-16, 1998 Kirtland Community College had the honor of hosting a delegation of administration and faculty members from Beijing Union University, Beijing, China.

The visit was part of this year's "China" focus by the Michigan Global Awareness Consortium that unites seven other Michigan colleges with Kirtland. The goal of the Consortium is to bring knowledge of a different region of the world each year to the members' respective Michigan communities.

Tanya Puchkova, Language Instructor and coordinator of Kirtland's Global Awareness program said the visit by the Chinese was "mutually enjoyable and productive." After a friendly and warm exchange between the staff of both institutions the following agreements were reached:

1. Kirtland Community College (KCC) faculty members will teach English courses at Beijing Union University (BUU) as early as fall, 1999 for a duration of one or two semesters.

Crawford County Avalanche 102 Michigan Avenue Grayling, MI 49738 (517) 348-6811 FAX (517) 348-6806

2. BUU faculty members will teach and integrate Chinese culture. art, philosophy, and other related subjects into regular courses at KCC and other member-colleges of the Michigan Global Awareness Consortium as early as Fall 1999.

3. BUU students will study at KCC on a short-term exchange or a degree basis. 4. KCC students will study at BUU on a short-term or a degree 5. Groups of faculty, staff and community residents from the Global Awareness Consortium will be encouraged to visit Beijing and specifically BUU. for cultural and educational purpos-

school-members of Michigan

Puchkova said "We have to keep reminding ourselves, that exchanges and trips are not the final goals, but only a means of learning about another country. This year we have tried to prepare our staff, faculty, students, and the community by providing other China-related educational opportunities.

We have had numerous presentations about China by university professors, artists, travelers who visit our campus. This activity has attracted the attention of Michigan State and Central Michigan Universities who have been very helpful in providing us with their extensive Asia Studies resources."

Kirtland President Dorothy Franke, who led a delegation to Beijing Union University last year, said, "We are hoping that the residents in our Kirtland district will actively participate in this endeavor. The two year period of 1997/98 was the first time our Global Awareness Program concentrated on one country for two years in a row, and took a well-structured approach to begin to learn about a culture from many perspectives. So far, the project has been a great success."

If residents would like to get more information about KCC Global Awareness Activities, please contact Tanya Puchkova at (517)275-5121, extension 394 or Maurice Moses at (517)275-5121 extension 325.

ABWA names officers for 1998-99

Outgoing President, Kathy Heaven, read the oath of office to the new officers of the Grayling Chapter of the American Business Women's Association at their meeting on Tuesday, October 20.

Taking over for the new year are Barbara Hinderleider as President, Patricia Kangas as Vice President, Rhonda Haas as Treasurer, and Lynn Hagon as Secretary.

A discussion of committees and chairpersons was held with final decisions to wait until the next board meeting.

Rhonda Haas of Citizens Bank hosted the meeting with food catered from China West of Grayling.

The major topic of conversation following installation of officers was the 1999 Grayling Junior Miss Program. Some new ideas were discussed, ticket prices were established, and scholastic eligibility for the young ladies was determined.

The next meeting will be held on November 17, at the Shoppenagon Inn. It will be "Meet the Contestant Night". Parents of the contestants are invited to join the girls at the meeting.

Also, any working woman interested in being a part of ABWA is invited to attend.

The meeting will begin with social hour at 5:30 p.m., and the business meeting at 6 p.m.

Franchise manager attends convention

R Block franchise in Grayling was among more than 75 franchise owners attending the annual H & R Block satellite franchise convention held at Crystal Mountain in Thompsonville, on October 27-29.

At the top of the convention's agenda was the Tax Relief Act of 1997 and the most recent changes affecting 1998, including the Internal Revenue Srvice Restructuring and Reform Act of 1998.

"With the new tax law provisions that took effect in 1998, taxpayers are going to need help understanding the changes", said Rory. "Even though this new legislation contains the most sweeping changes in years, we will be prepared to answer our clients' questions and advise them how these changes will affect their personal tax situation".

Topics included exploring IRA's

Rory Moore, manager of the H & the new Child Credit, the Supplemental Child Credit, the Additional Child Credit, the Hope Credit, Lifetime Learning Credit, along with a variety of others to assist clients who will need additional help planning for the next few years.

> Also attending the convention was Victoria Hall, Vice President, Eastern Franchise Operations from H & R Block's World Headquarters in Kansas City, Missouri, and Cathy Assistant President/Regional Director from the Regional office in Livonia.

Participants attended various management seminars during the convention, including those relating to the most recent tax law changes.

"As a result of the information obtained at the convention, we are positioned to ensure our clients get every new credit or deduction they are entitled to receive," says Rory.

Bill Rutter of the Sears Retail Dealer store located on M72 West in Grayling, recently attended Sears DealerFest' 98 in Chicago.

Generic drugs can be better value

It pays to use generic drugs say the pharmacists at Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan (BCBSM). Using generic drugs can save in health care costs and help keep health insurance premiums down in the long run.

The cost of drugs is rising faster than costs in any other health care category. Using generics, whenever your physician believes it medically appropriate, is one way that consumers can help ensure that their health care dollars are spent

Health care professionals support the use of generic drugs. Some health plans require that generic drugs be used instead of brand names in many instances. Even most hospitals routinely use generic drugs to treat their patients.

"So next time you get a prescription, ask your physician about using generic drugs," advises William E. Valler, R.Ph, director of pharmacy services at BCBSM. Your pharmacist also can help you with questions when you fill your prescription."

More than 50 generic drugs are already on the list of the top 200 drugs sold in the U.S. In fact, the top selling drug is the generic drug, amoxicillin, an antibiotic.

A generic drug is made with the same active ingredients as a namebrand drug and is marketed after the name brand's patent exclusivity has expired.

The Food Administration (FDA) requires generic drugs to pass many rigorous tests and procedures to assure that the medication is interchangeable with the brand name drug, under all approved indications and conditions, before it goes on the market. These tests include ensuring the drugs have the same strength, potency and purity as the name brand.

"Actually, in 1997, up to 80 percent of generic drugs approved by the FDA were manufactured by the companies that made the brand name drugs," says Valler. "The average cost for the top 10 generic drugs is only $13.50, while the cost of their brand name counterparts averages $29.50."

Should diabetic receive flu shot?

by Linda DeMarchis, M.A., Health Educator

Q. My mother is a newly diagnosed diabetic. Shouldn't she be sure to get a flu shot this year?

A. You are right to be concerned about your mother who is diabetic. When someone is diabetic, the flu becomes more than an uncomfortable illness with lots of aches and pains. This chronic disease makes the immune system more vulnerable to severe cases of the flu or pneumonia and may even result in death. In facet, people with diabetes are three times more likely to die with either the flu or pneumonia than those without diabetes. During the flu epidemics, death rates among diabetics increase by 5 to 15%. If the person is not only diabetic but over 65 with cardiovascular disease, the risk of death is even higher. In a recent year, 30,000 diabetics died of flu or pneumonia complications.

In spite of these grim facts, only immunized against flu in past years and less than 20% against pneumococcal disease which causes the leading form of pneumonia. Not only should your mother receive flu vaccine but pneumococcal vaccine as well. If your mother's close family members receive a flu shot, they can help keep everyone healthy by preventing the spread of flu and its complications to your mom.

The health department will be offering flu shots and pneumococcal vaccine (on a limited basis) by appointment at specially scheduled clinics beginning in October. Check your newspaper or TV calendar for specific dates and times of clinics. The cost of the flu vaccine at these health department clinics is $9 and pneumococcal vaccine is $14. Both injections are covered by Medicaid and Medicare.

The vaccines are very safe and 40% of adults with diabetes were cannot give you the flu since they contain no live viruses. To be fully protected, your mother needs to receive flu vaccine annually since flu viruses vary each year. Although the vaccine is safe, those with an allergy to eggs or other special concerns should seek medical advice before scheduling since they may not be good candidates for immunization.

If your mom knows others who are diabetic, she can do them a big service by reminding them to get their flu shots as well.

Most rest areas to stay open this winter

Governor Engler announced today that nearly all rest areas on state highways will remain open during the upcoming winter months, altering a longtime cost-saving practice of the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT).

motorist inconvenience as we rebuild Michigan's roads and bridges," said Governor Engler. "Keeping our rest areas open is good for the state's motorists as well as the increased number of tourists planning to visit Michigan this winter," Engler said.

closed between eight and 21 of Michigan's 83 rest areas during the winter months.

While the majority of facilities have been closed in order to preserve funds for other transportation needs, a small number of seasonal dramatically reduced usage and safety issues where facilities are in high wind areas or hilly entrances which make them more difficult to maintain during harsh winter months.

"We have a responsibility to maintain our entire transportation

Each year since 1978, MDOT has system, and that includes rest areas used by our customers," said James DeSana, MDOT Director.

> "With the passage of the Build Michigan II plan, we can both fix our roads and keep more of our facilities open for motorists and winter tourists."

> From December 1, 1998 through April 12, 1999, MDOT will close only those five rest areas that have experienced seasonal closure each year for non-economic reasons. including those located on 1-75 in Sault Ste. Marie, St. Ignace, Topinabee and Hebron and the rest area on US-131 in Hart.

A STORY THAT EVERY BANK WOULD LIKE TO TELL, BUT ONLY EMPIRE BANK CAN.

The Teller Taxicab

Lt was a splendid summer morning at Empire Bank. The sun was shining. The birds were singing. One of our customers, however, was on the horns of a dilemma --- she had just locked her keys in her car. No problem, thought Teller Shelly Johnson. She'd let the customer use the phone to find someone to pick her up. But the woman couldn't reach anyone. To make matters worse, she was supposed to open a store in a few minutes. What to do, what to do? Shelly knew - she hopped in her own car and drove the pleasantly shocked customer to work. Crisis averted. Shelly didn't collect a fare and the woman didn't sit in the back seat. It's just one more difference between Empire Bank and all the rest. This really happened.

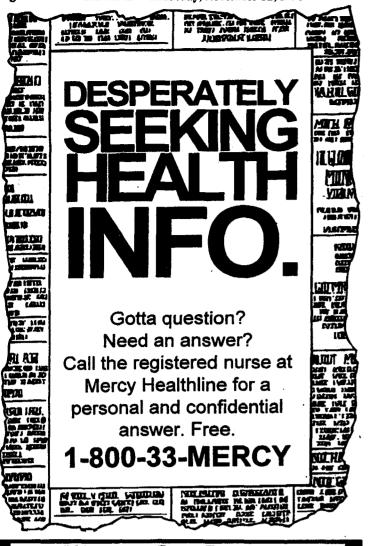

Signed,

Jim Dutmers

Chairman, Empire Bank

& Empire National Bank

NOTHING RUNS LIKE A DEERE

The National Reading fights hunger

On Saturday, November 14, ten northern Michigan writers will join the fight against hunger in Share Our Strength's fourth annual Writers Harvest: The National Reading, the country's largest literary benefit to fight hunger.

Writers will read from their works at some 200 bookstores and college campuses across the United States. all on one day. One hundred percent of all funds raised go directly to state agencies dedicated to hunger relief and will be matched for the national effort against hunger thanks to the national sponsorship of American Express.

The suggested donation for Writers Harvest are $5 for students and $10 for non-students.

The readers will read from their work at Horizon Books at 243 E. Front Street in Traverse City. The event will begin at 3p.m.

Included in this year's event is an art auction of works by area artists. Auction tickets will be on sale at the book table

For more information about the event call Gerry LaFemina at (517)275-5121 ext. 376.

Northern Michigan joins a national effort to fight against hunger. Fifty percent collected will go to the North West Gleaners Food Bank of Cadillac which provides food for over one hundred food distribution centers in Northern Michigan--soup kitchens, meals on wheels, church groups, etc... including groups in Roscommon, Crawford, Kalkaska, and Grand Traverse counties. The other fifty percent will go to the Detroit Hunger Action Coalition.

The national sponsorship for Writers Harvest is provided by American Express, which has been a long-term supporter of SOS hunger relief programs. And on November 1, American Express and Share Our Strength will launch the fifth Charge Against Hunger fund-raising, awareness and volunteer campaign.

From November 1 to December 31, 1998 each time the American Express card is used to make a purchase, three cents will be donated to Share Our Strength, with the goal of raising up to $5 million.

SOS works to alleviate and prevent hunger throughout the U.S. and the world. With the help of thousands of volunteers, SOS fights hunger through grant distribution, public education, community outreach and direct service. Founded in 1984, SOS has become the nation's leading hunger relief and prevention organizations.

For further information about Writers Harvest readings nationwide call (800)955-8278. For those who would like to become further please call (800)969-4767.

Michigan elects first female attorney general

by Cara McDevitt Capital News Service

Lansing - After 37 years, never be replaced. Michigan has a new attorney general who shattered an untouched "glass ceiling". Democrat Jennifer Granholm will become Michigan's first female attorney general.

Tuesday's election results went late into the night as votes were tallied, putting to bed a nasty race that included two candidates accusing each other of lying.

Granholm, former U.S. attorney for western Michigan, said she didn't stress the fact she was a woman in her campaign.

"I didn't run a campaign around the fact I'm a woman, but focused on a quality campaign," she said.

Official election results show Granholm defeated Republican John Smietanka an Ada attorney, by a slim margin, 1,518,087 to 1,404,596

Granholm's initial reaction to her big win was happiness, relief and disbelief. "I still don't think that it has sunk in yet," she said.

After Democrat Frank Kelly announced he'd retire at the end of the year, Republicans hoped to end a 37-year Democrat election streak in the office, but again were unable to attain the one seat that's evaded

Along with reconstruction troops under her command, Granholm's tentative plans include expanding the criminal bureau to put more criminals in jail and keep them longer.

Granholm will be protecting kids on the Internet, also.

"I have been told the Internet will be able to be accessed through cable within a year," Granholm said. "That has become a huge concern because kids can stumble upon the wrong sites."

Granholm plans to create a "high-

Hunting rule changes affect tree stands and baiting

Firearm deer season starts November 15

Firearm deer season is almost here again, with this year's season starting on Sunday, November 15.

Here are a few rule changes and bits of general hunting information for those getting ready to hit the woods this season:

• Rule change: Tree stands --Firearm deer hunters are now allowed to hunt from raised plat-

Screw in tree steps are illegal on the bottom of the stand. public land. It is illegal to use bolts, screws, nails or any other materials that pierce the cambium (thin layer of living cells just below the bark) when fastening a tree stand.

Portable tree stands must have identification on the bottom that can be easily read from below. The owner's name and address written in legible English must be affixed to

Platforms and steps must be removed from trees on public land by the day following the last day of deer season in the area.

• Rule change: Baiting and feeding (bovine TB issues) -- There are baiting restrictions and a feeding ban for portions of northeastern Lower Peninsula in order to address the bovine TB issue. The area of

Michigan affected by the ban is everything east of I-75 and north of Beginning on September 1, 1998 limited amounts of bait may be placed for the purpose of hunting deer. No more than five gallons of bait may be placed at any one location, and bait must be placed on the ground. Salt and minerals are illegal.

Hunters are encouraged to scatter the bait rather than stack it in order to minimize nose-to-nose contact by any animals using the bait. Baiting that adheres to the restrictions in this area is allowed until January 3, Mechanical or electric feeders are legal as long as they scatter feed on the ground and do not exceed the five gallon quantity limit.

• Rule change: Second license --The second firearm deer license has been eliminated.

• Ground blinds -- A ground blind means a structure, enclosure or any material, natural or manufactured, placed on the ground to assist in disguising the user or occupant for the purpose of taking an animal.

There are three types of blind: (type 1) portable ground blind, (type 2) dead natural materials ground blind and (type 3) constructed ground blind.

Type one must be clearly portable and removed at the end of each day's hunt. No identification is required on these blinds, and can be placed on public lands at any time during legal hunting. Fasteners must not penetrate the cambium of the Type two must be made exclusively of dead natural materials found in the area of the blind. A hunter may tie netting, cloth, plastic or other materials to the blind for concealment or protection from the Firearm Deer (age 14 and up), $14;

Resources has a few safety tips for those heading out into the woods

• Treat every firearm as if it is loaded. You can never guarantee that your chamber is unloaded, so give an unloaded firearm the same respect you would a loaded one.

Never point the muzzle at yourself

• Don't drink. Alcohol, drugs and

Constructed ground blinds must have the name and address of the person placing the blind permanently attached, etched, engraved or painted on. · Transporting firearms -- barrel when the hunter is traveling afield outside of legal hunting hours. Legal hunting hours are 30 minutes before sunrise to 30 minutes after

Rifles, shotguns and muzzleloading firearms must be unloaded in both barrel and magazine while being transported in a motor vehicle and either enclosed in a case or locked in the trunk.

Also, you must have your license with you when you carry or transport a firearm where there are birds or animals, unless you are traveling to a target, trap or skeet range.

 License requirements ---Hunters born on or after January 1, 1960 must present a Michigan Hunter Safety Certificate, previous hunting license or sign an affidavit stating that you have either completed a Hunter Safety Course or possessed a hunting license in Michigan or elsewhere.

• Adult Resident License -- To purchase any adult Michigan resident hunting or fur harvester license you must fulfill one of the following: reside in the boundaries of the state with the intention of staying; or, you must be a student enrolled full-time at a Michigan college or university; or, you must be commissioned as an officer of the U.S. armed forces and officially stationed in Michigan.

• License prices -- Resident

EIGHT POINT BUCK -- Sixty deer in the TB quarantine zone (east of I-75 and north of M-55) are tagged for study by Michigan State University and the DNR. Please refer to the story below for the details.

Hunters asked not to shoot deer tagged for TB study

by Cara McDevitt Capital News Service

Hunters roaming in northeastern lower Michigan are being asked not to shoot deer with ear tags or radio collars.

Michigan State University and the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) tagged 63 deer this year with radios and markers in response to an outbreak of bovine tuberculosis.

The quarantine area where the deer were tagged runs east of 1-75 and north of M- 55.

"Radio collars are used to track each deer," said Scott Winterstein, an MSU fisheries and wildlife professor. "Every collar is set at a different frequency so we can tune into an individual frequency and find our deer."

Ear markers make it clear to hunters which deer are part of the study and also show the sex and the year researchers tagged the deer.

MSU and the DNR are running a study to determine movement behavior of deer and the spread of

"Although we've been tracking the movement of deer in this area for three winters now, we'll be looking at patterns of movement for food this year," Winterstein

As of January 1, feeding deer in the quarantine area will be illegal.

"This has been a huge area of human feeding deer for the past 15 years," Winterstein said. Piles have been as large as 10 tons and include corn, potatoes, carrots and sugar

"Supplemental feeding could increase infection levels by maintaining an artificially high population of deer," he said.

Winterstein wants to see if deer will travel for food or if they stay in an area because they don't know

It is legal to shoot tagged deer, but MSU and the DNR want hunters to hold fire.

If a marked deer is shot, hunters are asked to report it to the DNR. The number and information is on the radio collar.

DNR check stations remove deer heads and send them to MSU for TB testing. Local check stations are in Atlanta in Montmorency County, and Mio in Oscoda County.

"We also accept untagged deer at checkpoints that hunters donate for TB testing," said Larry Robinson, DNR wildlife biologist in Mio.

Of the 63 deer tagged this year, 60 are still alive.

"Three of the deer have been shot and it's not even firearm season yet," Winterstein said.

All three of those deer were reported by bow hunters and their heads returned to MSU, but TB results haven't been released.

"An eight-point buck was shot last week," Winterstein said. "It's hard to ask a hunter not to shoot a find like that."

Last year hunters killed 26 of 60 tagged deer. The heads were tested, and one had TB.

DNR urges firearm safety

• Don't load your firearm before you are ready. When traveling always carry your firearm unloaded in its case · Check your target. Be sure that before you squeeze the trigger you carefully scan the target and the area beyond. It is important to use care in identifying the target and looking past it to make sure it's safe to fire. Hunters should watch for buildings, roadways and other hunters.

· Be aware of fatigue. When you've been out in the woods for a long time fatigue can cause acci-

• Watch your step, because a loaded firearm can go off accidentally even with a single, unexpected jar. Never step over fences, jump ditches or make other awkward or unbalanced moves when holding a loaded firearm.

• Use care when practicing. When shooting for practice, make sure your backstop will prevent ricochets and protect bystanders. Bullets can redirect off water, rocks, trees, metal and other hard surfaces.

 Store your firearms safely. When not in use, always store your firearms unloaded, away from ammunition and out of the reach of children and inexperienced users.

Consumers offers tips for hunters

Michigan residents and visitors will journey into the woods and forests this fall for Michigan's annual firearm deer season. Some may be injured or killed because they lose sight of safety.

Consumers Energy would like to remind Michigan's hunters to make safety a top concern. Here are a few common sense rules:

• Let someone know where you are going and when you plan to return. If you are injured or lost, authorities need a place to begin searching.

· A few readily available accessories are critical for woodland survival. Take food, matches, a first aid kit and water.

• Wear proper clothing and be prepared for sudden changes in the

• Always carry a compass and a 77,000 homes and businesses for Hundreds of thousands of map of the area in which you are hunting. If you lose or break your compass, you can find north with your wrist watch. Place a stick in an upright position at the center of the dial. Rotate the watch until the shadow cast from the stick is over the hour hand. The point halfway between the hour hand and 12:00 will be north.

 Never shoot at electric power lines, insulators or other utility equipment.

Gunshot vandalism causes loss of electric service and grave inconvenience to Michigan residents every year. To date in 1998, vandalism to the utility's electric transmission and distribution system has resulted in the loss of service to more than 4.5 million customer outage minutes. In 1997, over 24,000 customers were affected by vandalism-related outages for more than 2.5 million customer outage

Consumers Energy offers cash rewards for information leading to the arrest and arraignment of those who willfully cause power outages. Information can be given to local law enforcement agencies or the utility at 1-800-477-5050.

Varsity girls rally to beat Standish

by Caleb Casey Staff Writer

The GHS Varsity Girls Basketball Team outscored Standish Sterling 24-2 in the fourth quarter to earn an impressive come-from-behind victory against the visiting Panthers on Friday, November 6.

Standish hit the first basket of the game in the opening period and managed to keep a lead until late in the fourth quarter.

Grayling struggled from the floor in the first period, and Standish rebounded well, which limited second and third shot opportunities on Standish led 14-8 at the end of the first period.

Later in the second period Andrea Elmy scored a bucket inside to cut the Panther lead to one, 21-20. Elmy had a decent half, scoring 10 points for the Vikings.

Standish led by a score of 27-21 at halftime.

The Panthers went on a 13-4 scoring run in the beginning of the second half, extending their lead to 15, 40-25.

The Vikings continued to have problems shooting, and were outrebounded by the Panthers. Grayling's full court pressure failed to trap the Standish offense.

Melanie Paxton hit a three-pointer late in the quarter to cut the Standish lead to nine. The Panthers came out of the third with a 45-33 lead.

In the fourth quarter Grayling's offense heated up. Mary Dobry started the scoring with a triple, which narrowed the gap to nine.

Later in the quarter sophomore Carrie Cadeau hit a three-point shot to put Grayling within eight.

Cadeau and Elmy each hit two free throws, which put the Standish lead at four, 47-43.

Dobry connected on another three-point bucket to put Grayling within one.

With 2:35 remaining in the game guard Mandy Trudgeon made a nice pass inside to Dobry, who finished the play with a lay-up. The basket gave Grayling its first lead of the Mika Sumner extended the Viking lead to three with a rebound and putback for two points.

With the Vikings still up by three, Cadeau came up with a crucial steal with 1:01 remaining. Standish was forced to foul, and Grayling capitalized on enough free throws down the stretch to seal the victory.

The Vikings had tightened up their defense and rebounding, and only allowed the Panthers one field goal in the final period.

The Vikings ended up winning by 10 points. The final tally was 57-47.

"The crowd was a major factor in this victory," said Coach Chris Dunckley. "We had a nice crowd and everyone supported the girls on the floor."

Grayling didn't fare quite as well on Tuesday, November 3, when the visiting Vikings fell to Bay City John Glenn, 34-49.

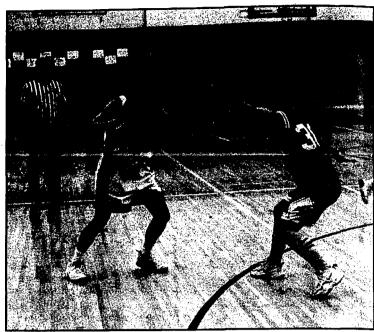

"We watched a 20-10 lead early in the second quarter slip away," said Coach Dunckley. "Point guard Mandy Trudgeon went down with an ankle injury, and that seemed to be a factor in the rest of the game for points in the second half and only two in the fourth quarter," said Dunckley.

"Bay City held us to only 14

Dobry was the Viking high scorer November 12.

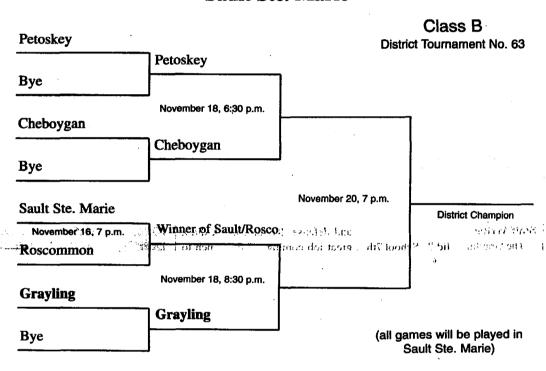

Grayling will face off against Gaylord at home on Thursday,

JV suffers tough loss to Panthers

by Caleb Casey Staff Writer

The GHS Junior Varsity Girls Basketball Team lost a heartbreaker to Standish Sterling on Friday, November 6, after leading the Panthers by as many as 13 points.

The Vikings led Standish for most of the game.

Grayling maintained a small lead for much of the first quarter. The Vikings played tenacious defense with multiple steals, blocked shots and deflections, but Standish Sterling's offense remained focused and patient, hitting the high percentage shots when they were open.

Center Lori Hinkle had a solid first period in the paint, scoring eight points down low.

Jamie Dent hit a three-pointer at the first quarter buzzer to put Grayling up 21-16.

In the opening minute of the second period Grayling's foul troubles began when Hinkle picked up her third foul. Four Vikings would foul out before the end of the game.

Danielle Niederer opened the second period scoring with a three-point basket, which gave Grayling a 24-17 lead.

The Vikings continued to hustle on defense, battling for loose balls and forcing turnovers.

Arica Wolcott drove to the hoop and scored to put Grayling up by 13, 32-19

The Vikes had a nine point lead at halftime, 36-27.

Foul trouble started to take its toll in the third as two of Grayling's starters picked up their fourth fouls. Standish converted on two free throws to cut the Viking lead to one, 40-39.

Center Jayme Potter hit two buckets inside as the third period ticked away, putting Grayling up by five, 44-39.

Standish went on to outscore Grayling 21-9 in the fourth and final period.

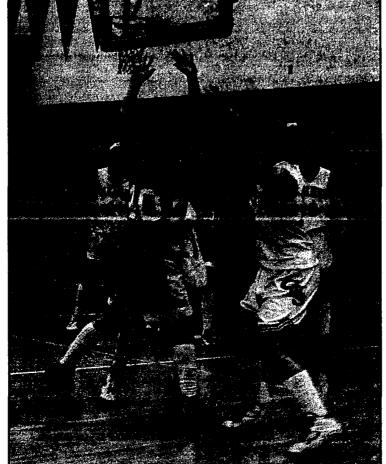

Following a two-point basket by Gina Thompson, the Panthers went on a 6-0 scoring run to take their first lead since the opening period.

The Vikings fought back with a three-pointer from Emily Fox and a bucket inside from Arica Wolcott to put Grayling back up by four, 51-47.

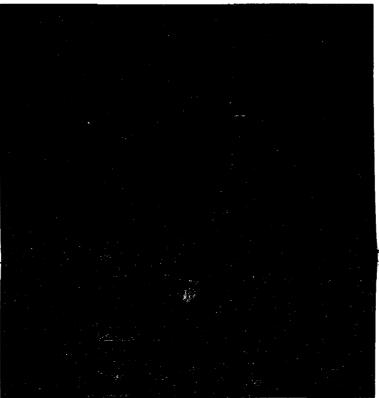

Standish then battled back, tying the game at 51. The Panthers kept the scoring run going, putting in 11 unanswered points. Standish led 60-51 with just seconds remaining.

Wolcott finished the Viking scoring with a pair of free throws. Standish led by seven at the buzzer, with the final score locked at 60-53.

The Vikes will host the Blue Devils of Gaylord on Thursday, November 12. Tip-off will be at 6 p.m.

GMS 7th graders fall to Kalkaska 23-13

by Caleb Casey Staff Writer

The Grayling Middle School 7th Grade Girls Basketball Team took on Kalkaska on Wednesday, November 4. The Vikings lost by 10 points, 23-13.

Jessica Stewart led the team in scoring with six. Megan Madill scored four points, and Heather Baker put in three points for Grayling.

"The girls played an outstanding defensive game," said Coach Craig Hofman. "We lost both games earlier to Kalkaska and decided to press them. The girls only faltered twice on the press. They did a great job."

"Offensively we probably outshot Kalkaska three to one, but the ball kept going in and out for us and whenever they shot it went in. Bad luck," said Coach Hofman.

"Molly Ferrigan did a great job of pressuring the ball and trapping. Sara Bindschatel also played aggressive weakside rebounding and defense. Kristin Smock did a great job coming off the bench to play several positions," added Hofman.

Stewart ended up leading the team in scoring this season with 47 points. Baker scored 41 points, and Madill put in 32 this year.

Stewart also led the team in rebounds this season. Baker had the most steals.

"These girls are going to improve even more and surprise some teams next year," said Coach Hofman.

Local angler surprised by his catch of the day

FISH STORY -- Local resident Clarence Sampier, 80, displays the eight pound pike he caught in Howes Lake. The fish isn't supposed to be in the lake, which contains mostly trout, sunfish and perch. "I've caught a lot of suckers out there but never a pike," said Sampier. He's fished the lake for nearly 50 years. A representative of DNR Fisheries Division told Sampier that at some point someone probably planted the fish in the lake, but otherwise there aren't pike in it. Sampier said he caught the big fish using a number six hook, and was surprised he was able to land it using that equipment.

Food safety

by Linda DeMarchis, M.A., Health Educator

Q. Our family likes to fix large batches of soup and chili ahead of time to serve our hungry hunters during deer season. Could there be a problem with this?

A. We are rapidly approaching the time of the year when numerous family gatherings, chili suppers and bazaars are taking place. This also means that we are fast approaching the possibility of bacteria growing in large containers of food, causing food-borne illness.

Because of the chilly weather, many cooks plan on serving soups, chill and stews to their shivering guests. Some are prepared in advance for later reheating. This requires adequate knowledge on the part of the food handler, who must cook, cool and re-heat large quantities of food in a safe manner.

If soups, chilies, sloppy joes, etc. are cooked before hand, they must be cooled at such a rate that all portions of the mixture drop to 45 degrees fahrenheit in four hours or less. Inadequate cooling of large quantities of food is one of the main causes of food-borne illness in this country.

There are two ways to cool a large quantity of food safely:

· First, the food can be redistributed into shallow containers to a depth of 4 inches or less and refrigerated until cold. Shallow containers are especially important if the food is too thick to stir while cooling down.

· A second method is to place the food container in a large sink filled with ice to the level of the food. Water is added to the ice and the food is stirred frequently to equalize the cooling process. As ice melts, more ice is added. The temperature of the food is checked frequently so that food can be placed in shallow containers if not cooling fast enough. When the temperature is reduced to 45 degrees fahrenheit within the four hour limit, the food is transferred to the refrigerator until ready to heat and serve a true no po

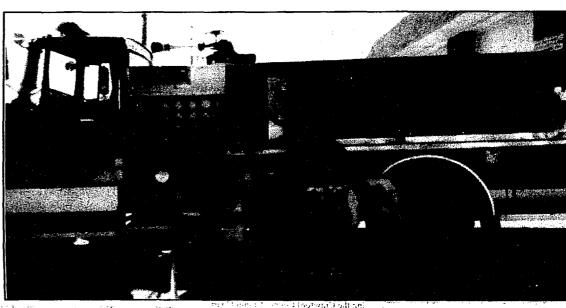

Although these methods seem like a time-consuming nuisance, they are important and necessary. Other food preparation safety tips may be obtained by calling the food sanitarians at the Environmental Health offices of the Health Department. Their advice is especially important if an organization you belong to is planning a bazaar or hunter's supper that is open to the public. Then you should inquire about applying for a temporary food service license if you are organizing such an event.

This column is presented as a by District Health Department No. 10, which covers a ten county area. If you have any questions you would like answered in this column, please send them to: Health Education Department, in care of your local Health Department.

IDENTIFY PIPELINES

Be aware of pipeline markers in your neighborhood. Write down the name and phone number of the pipeline company listed on the markers in case of an emergency. Markers include warning signs, aerial patrol markers, casing vents and painted posts.

RECOGNIZE A PIPELINE LEAK BY:

- · SIGHT: Pool of liquid, dense log or discolored
- · SOUND: Hissing or roaring noise from the pipeline.

· SMELL: Unusual smell.

REACT TO A PIPELINE LEAK · Leave the leak area immediately.

- Do not touch, breathe or go near leaking liquids.
- . Do not create any spark in the leak area.
- From a safe distance, call 911 or your local emergency number and the pipeline company.
- Do not drive into a leak or vapor cloud area.
- . Warn others.

CALL BEFORE YOU DIG

Know the location of all underground utilities near your excavating site. Call your State's Excavators "One-Call System." Representatives from the pipeline or utility will come to your site and locate the utility for you at no charge. ONE CALL SYSTEM NUMBERS ARE:

This has been a banner year for the gypsy moth across most of lower Michigan, much to the frustration of many homeowners.

"The gypsy moth has become a permanent resident of Michigan, and in some years it's going to be tough to live in areas experiencing outbreaks," says Deborah McCullough, Michigan State University forest entomologist. "While it's unlikely there ever will be a quick fix to the problem, homeowners can learn to cope with the gypsy moth. Now is the time to begin making those plans."

The first thing to do is check yard trees, lawn furniture, woodpiles, building eaves, underside of porches or decks, etc., for gypsy moth egg masses. The gypsy moth female likes sheltered. dark places for egg laying. The egg masses are tan to nearly dark brown, the size of a quarter or larger, and covered with fine hairs.

It helps if homeowners scrape as many egg masses as they can find into a bucket of soapy water and let the eggs soak for a day before discarding them.

Hold off doing that, however, until the first hard frost fall, or even later, because a natural enemy of the gypsy moth Oencyrtus kuvanae -is busy attacking the egg masses.

"This is a tiny wasp that lays an egg in the gypsy moth egg," McCullough says. "When the wasp egg hatches, the young larva feeds inside the gypsy moth egg, then pupates and a new

The wasp usually destroys 20 to 30 percent of the eggs in a large egg mass and up to 50 percent of eggs in a small egg mass.

McCullough says that Oencyrtus kuvanae is by far the most important wasp that parasitizes gypsy moth egg masses.

Some garden centers catalogs and individuals advertise Trichogramma wasps for gypsy moth control. These wasps do not attack gypsy moth Trichogramma wasps parasitize the eggs of several other insects, such as the spruce budworm and common leaf-feeding caterpillars in the garden, but not those of the gypsy moth.

Another thing often sold for gypsy moth control is the gypsy moth pheromone trap, which is considered to be a waste of homeowners' money by MSU's College of Agriculture. Pheromone traps do catch male gypsy moths, but trying to control an outbreak with traps is a little like trying to empty Lake Superior with a bucket.

"In lower Michigan, we have so many gypsy moths spread across the state that pheromone traps absolutely will not help control them," McCullough says. "Regardless of how many male moths are trapped I've seen 1,200 to 1,400 inside a single pheromone trap -- there is no chance that a homeowner will be able to trap enough of them to have any effect on the gypsy moth population or tree defoliation in their backyard or neighborhood."

Something that can help is creating an integrated approach to backyard gypsy moth con-

First, let the Oencyrtus kuvanae wasp do its work. Forget the Trichogramma wasps for gypsy moth control.

Then, from late fall through early spring, hunt for and destroy gypsy moth egg masses.

When gypsy moth caterpillar emergence begins in midspring, Bacillus thuringiensis (Bt) can be applied to tree foliage. Make the applications before the caterpillars are more than ahalf-inch long.

Bt is biodegradable and provides environmentally friendly pest control of foliage-feeding caterpillars but does not harm humans, birds, animals or other insects.

Consider using sticky bands and hiding the bands to trap gypsy moth caterpillars in the

If the gypsy moth population is high in the neighborhood, homeowners might want to consider hiring a private contractor to apply Bt in the spring or becoming part of the voluntary gypsy moth suppression program administered by the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Information about the options that homeowners have for gypsy moth management is available through the county MSU Extension office. Page 7B -- AVALANCHE -- Thursday, November 12, 1998

MOROSCOPES

For The Week of November 15 to 21

Ordinarily, you don't like beating around the bush. But you need to watch what you say this week at work concerning a certain problem. If a friend tells you he/she is not available to help with a project, don't push because it. may ruin the friendship.

Taurus

If money is tight this week, consider selling something you've been holding onto unnecessarily. It could sure let you breathe a lot more easily. Even though the holidays are occupying a lot of thought, be sure you take some time from them for your career.

This week, take some time to visit friends you haven't seen in awhile. It could be a slight misunderstanding that has kept you apart; this would be a good time to iron it out. Don't say "no" to an investment opportunity that may be heading your way in the near future.

Don't stretch yourself too thin this week. Although your focus is on home and family, don't let your thoughts wander too much at work. You need to be on the ball and prepared for a big meeting. This could be a very productive week for you.

Leo

You'll be facing some transitions at work. Keep an open mind while it's all going on. You may want to consider trying more assertive ideas before the dust settles. It may be the best time for you to push your ideas through. Beware of investment schemes.

Virgo

You're too busy to take on all the plans for Thanksgiving! Get a family member to help you with all the tasks before it's too late and some things don't get done. Take a breather one evening and enjoy a meal with a close friend or your

You can come to an agreement this week. If you've been holding out, it may be time to consider compromise. It doesn't necessarily mean you lose, it just means you have come to the end of the problem. Get those long overdue chores done at home!

Scorpio

Your hectic work schedule should slow down this week. It would be a good time to catch up on the little tasks you've been putting off. Maybe you could even take an afternoon off and do some early holiday shopping. After all, things could get really busy next week.

Sagittarius

Your energy level is high this week. Take advantage of it and get a head start on your holiday shopping and activities. Get your jobs done at work on time or ahead of time, then you may be able to take some time off for your-

You may find that you have a little extra money on hand. How about using it to improve yourself? For instance, you could take a class or even go on an educational trip. Whatever you decide, plan it for after the beginning of next

Aquarius

Conflict could arise between where you really want to go and where you have committed to be. Why not put in an appearance at the family gathering, then go enjoy some time with friends. Don't take on anything new. You've got too much to do as it is.

You may not like to think about financial matters, but they characterise priority with you this week. Seek out expert financial advice. It would probably be best for you to review your options and stay away from making decisions for the time being.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK EASY CARAMEL COFFEECAKE

Time for a change?

Smoke detector batteries

Change the batteries in your smoke detector

Change the batteries in your smoke detector before the old ones run out. That way, your smoke detectors can warn you and your family to escape in the event of a fire.

Follow these tips to keep your smoke detectors in top working shape:

- Test your smoke detectors monthly and put in new batteries at least once a year;
- Vacuum over and around detectors to keep them free from dust and debris.

When it comes to smoke detectors, a little change makes all
